

PEPPERDINE UNIVERSITY
SEAVER COLLEGE OF LETTERS, ARTS, AND SCIENCES

Visiting Assistant Professor of Biochemistry

ANNOUNCEMENT

Pepperdine University's Seaver College of Letters, Arts and Sciences, located in Malibu, California, invites applications for an appointment as a Visiting Assistant Professor of Biochemistry for the 2019-2020 academic year. Applicants, who have completed a Ph.D. in biochemistry or chemistry by August 2019, will be considered. In addition, applicants need to be able to teach broadly across a combination of disciplines including: cellular biology, molecular biology, biochemistry, and organic chemistry lab.

Located in the diverse metropolitan areas of Los Angeles and Southern California, the Natural Science Division of Pepperdine University is especially interested in qualified candidates who can contribute through their teaching or service to the diversity and excellence of the University and our surrounding community. Pepperdine University is a Christian University and successful candidates must demonstrate an active commitment to support the Christian values of the University (<https://www.pepperdine.edu/about/our-story/mission-vision/>) and the mission of Seaver College. (<https://seaver.pepperdine.edu/about/our-story/seaver-mission/>)

Applicants should submit the following materials at <http://seaver.pepperdine.edu/about/administration/dean/facultyemployment/default.htm>:

- a cover letter;
- a curriculum vita;
- a statement of teaching philosophy;
- a statement indicating how the candidate will support the Christian mission of the University;
- three confidential letters of reference; and
- transcripts of all graduate coursework (copies are acceptable during the application process; however, official transcripts will be required for selected applicants).

The deadline for completed applications is March 22, 2019. The selection committee will begin reviewing applications on this date and will continue until the position is filled. A background check will be required as a condition of employment.
